IntelliJ IDEA

A screenshot of the IntelliJ IDEA IDE interface. The left sidebar shows a project structure with folders like 'resources' and 'src'. The main editor window displays Java code for a class named 'CreateHtmlFileAction'. The code includes a constructor, a 'getTemplateName()' method, and an 'execute()' method that uses a 'Builder' to create an HTML file. The code is as follows:

```
21 @Override private static final String DEFAULT_HTML_TEMPLATE_PROPERTY = "/
22 "%DefaultHtmlTemplate";
23
24 public CreateHtmlFileAction() {
25     super("HTML_FILE", "Creates new HTML_FILE", StepTypes.HTML.getAction());
26 }
27
28 @Override
29 protected String getDefaultTemplateName() { return "/
30 "%DEFAULT_HTML_TEMPLATE_PROPERTY; }
31
32 @Override
33 protected void actionPerformed(Project project, ActionDirectory directory, /
34 "%CreateHtmlFileActionBuilder builder) {
35     builder
36         .setTitle("New HTML_FILE")
37         .addAction("HTML_FILE", StepTypes.HTML.getAction(), /
38 "%FileTemplateManager.INTERNAL_HTML_TEMPLATE_NAME")
39         .addAction("HTML_FILE", StepTypes.HTML.getAction(), /
40 "%FileTemplateManager.INTERNAL_HTML_TEMPLATE_NAME")
41         .addAction("HTML_FILE", StepTypes.HTML.getAction(), /
42 "%FileTemplateManager.INTERNAL_HTML_TEMPLATE_NAME");
43 }
44
45 @Override
46 protected String getActionName(ActionDirectory directory, String noName, /
47 "%String templateName) {
48     return "HTML_FILE";
49 }
50
51 @Override
52 protected void actionPerformed(ActionDirectory directory, /
53 "%String templateName) {
54     // TODO: Implement this method
55 }
56
57 CreateHtmlFileAction getTemplateName()
```
